Section 2: Unattended Children

The library is a busy public facility. Children are welcome to use the library's facilities and services. The responsibility for children using the library rests with the parent/guardian or the responsible caregiver, not with library staff.

Definitions:

For the purposes of this policy, "children" or "child" shall mean a person under the age of 11.

For the purposes of this policy, an unattended child is a child who is out of visual contact or not in the direct vicinity of a responsible caregiver or left alone in the building.

All children under the age of 11 must be accompanied by a parent or designated responsible caregiver while in the library or attending a library program. We ask that the responsible caregiver remain within visual contact and in their immediate vicinity while on library premises.

When library staff are made aware of an unattended child, they will make a reasonable effort to locate the responsible caregiver. If the responsible caregiver is not located, library staff will notify the police.

Parents/guardians are responsible for picking up children prior to closing time. Children left unattended or deemed to be in a potentially dangerous situation may be picked up by the police for their own protection if their parents/guardians cannot be contacted. Library staff are authorized to remain with the child until police arrive. However, the library staff cannot assume liability for children's safety and behavior

Section 4: Suspension of Privileges for Health and Safety Reasons

It is the responsibility of the Baright Public Library to maintain a healthy and clean environment for all Library users and to protect the City's investment in Library collections, equipment and property. In order to fulfill this responsibility, the Library may restrict a user's ability to borrow materials and/or to visit Library facilities when such use may jeopardize the health and cleanliness of Library facilities, collections and users.

Examples of situations where borrowing of materials may be suspended include, but are not limited to:

- Evidence that items on loan to a customer may have been returned with insects that are known to be damaging to library materials, or that can result in pest infestations in library facilities, e.g. roaches, silverfish, bed bugs and some types of beetles.

Examples of situations where access to Library facilities may be suspended include, but are not limited to:

- Customers or customer possessions with fleas, lice, or bed bugs.
- Items on loan to customer were returned with evidence of fleas, lice, and bed bugs.
- Customers with clothing that is stained with urine or feces.

Patrons are asked not to use the book drop for materials with signs of insect infestation and should contact the Library for instructions on returning materials.

Should it become necessary to suspend Library privileges of a customer in order to protect Library collections, facilities or other users, notification of the suspension will be made by the Director, or in their absence a designated staff member.

Any materials returned by a patron that shows evidence of live or dead bugs will result in immediate suspension of BPL privileges for that patron and any patrons in the same residence. Patrons are asked not to use the book drop for materials with signs of insect infestation and should contact the library for instructions on returning materials.

A similar suspension of privileges will apply for the source, if the bed bugs originated in another residence. Suspension will be lifted after the patron and original source present(s) proof that their residence has been successfully treated for and eradicated of bed bugs by a licensed and accredited pest control company.
